

Thumbelina

Adapted by Wade Bradford

From the story by Hans Christian Andersen

Performance Rights

It is an infringement of the federal copyright law to copy this script in any way or to perform this play without royalty payment. All rights are controlled by Eldridge Publishing Co. Inc. Contact the publisher for additional scripts and further licensing information. The author's name must appear on all programs and advertising with the notice: "Produced by special arrangements with Eldridge Publishing Co."

ELDRIDGE PUBLISHING COMPANY

www.histage.com

© 2007 by Wade Bradford

Download your complete script from Eldridge Publishing

<https://histage.com/thumbelina>

STORY OF THE PLAY

In this adaptation of Hans Christian Andersen's beloved tale, all of the town's children gather round a traveling storyteller to hear the story of a wayward little fairy girl.

When an old woman wishes on a magic flower, her heart's desire for a child of her own literally blossoms before her eyes. Her little girl, only a few inches high, is named Thumbelina, and although the friendly child is very helpful around the house, and very kind to the nearby forest creatures, she just doesn't feel like she fits in. A gossipy Frog Lady convinces Thumbelina that she should journey across the meadow and find her "real" family.

And so, the girl's quest begins. Aided by a surly, one-eyed mouse named Uncle Jack, Thumbelina goes on the adventure of a lifetime, encountering a jealous mole, a mischievous goblin, a snobby pixie, and a sinister spider. Yet, with each obstacle, Thumbelina finds a cheerful solution, and makes many friends along the way.

By the time she finds an entire clan of people her size, she realizes where her heart truly belongs: back at home, with the mother who gave her life with a magical wish.

Performance time about an hour.

Premiere Performance

"Thumbelina" was originally performed by the Canyon Theatre Guild, Newhall, CA, in November, 2007. The original cast included: Fiona Perry; Kari Frazer; Alexis Gotham; Madison Shaw; Ally McKibbon; Tessa Delger; Mackenzie Bradford; Amanda Rodriguez; Danielle Kemper; Rosalina Emance; Tiersa Killian; Rylee Shaw; Kyli Gotham; Jane Weinrich; Karlie Kemper; Conner Raskin; Chaz Elliott; Carter Elliot; Cade Flebbe; Dylan Perry; Samantha Raskin; Samantha McKibbon; Emily Bradford; and Elise Killian.

Thumbelina

- 3 -

CAST OF CHARACTERS

(5 m, 8 w, 4 flexible, extras including children from audience)

STORYTELLER: A friendly young man – who bears an uncanny resemblance to Hans Christian Andersen.

LITTLE BIRD: Helps narrate the story, friend to Thumbelina.

WOMAN: Healer of animals. Thumbelina's mother.

THUMBELINA: An extremely tiny but wonderful little girl.

MRS. HEDGEHOG: Housekeeper and later, wife to Mole.

MOUSE 1: (Flexible) Good friend to Thumbelina.

MOUSE 2: (Flexible) Another good friend.

UNCLE JACK: Grizzled old mouse, but kind at heart.

MOTH: (Flexible) Loves the light.

DUCHESS: Imperious tiny creature.

THOMAS: Lazy grandson for the Duchess.

FRA-LULA FROG: Looking for a wife for her brother.

FROG JR.: Her brother, Beauregard.

GOBLIN: (Flexible) Hungry and hunting for bugs.

SPIDER MOM: Has hungry babies; teams up with Goblin.

PIXIE: A valley girl; like, duh, wants to sell jewelry.

MR. MOLE: Nearsighted, wants to get married.

Smaller, Flexible Roles: (Doubling possible)

CHILDREN: Listen to the story. (May be from audience)

PIXIES #2, #3, #4: Happy creatures living in the meadow.

HEDGEHOG KIDS: (Several)

BABY SPIDERS: (Several)

FLOWERS: (May be children from audience)

Thumbelina

- 4 -

SETTING

To perform this play, divide your stage into two distinct playing areas. One side, which may be raised a few feet, is the normal world of Thumbelina's mother where the scenery and props are regular size. The area may represent her bright, cheery kitchen which contains a table and chair and shelves for healing herb and potions.

The other side of the stage is the garden and forest, but from Thumbelina's point of view where everything is larger than normal. Scenery and props, such as a rake and outdoor lantern, are over-sized to give the visual impression the characters and animals there are much smaller than humans.

SFX

Happy opening music	Man whistling
Bird chirping	Magical music
Adventure music	Chilly wind blowing
Countdown	Pixie dance music
Something hitting a spittoon	Bones cracking
Rumbling of huge footsteps	Romantic music

See PROPS list at end of script.

Thumbelina

(AT RISE: Light, playful instrumental MUSIC plays. CHILDREN skip and frolic onto the stage. Some jump rope. Some plays with dolls. Others play pat-a-cake. The attire of the children should be timeless, nothing contemporary or tied to a particular decade. After a few moments, a melodious WHISTLING is heard. All of the children stop what they are doing and lift up their heads, delighted by the familiar sound.)

CHILDREN: (Ad lib.) The storyteller is here! He's here! He's come back to town.

(The STORYTELLER enters. He is the one whistling the tune. Note: The whistling could be a sound effect, if necessary.)

CHILDREN: Tell us a story! Tell us a story!

(The STORYTELLER sits down on a box, stage left. The CHILDREN gather and sit around him. He takes out a piece of paper and some scissors. He begins to make something.)

STORYTELLER: Such anxious children. Don't you even have time to say hello?

CHILDREN: Hello!

STORYTELLER: Hello there. So, you want to hear a story? And what kind of tale would you like me to tell?

CHILD #1: Something with mermaids!

CHILD #2: And little match girls!

CHILD #3: And magic shoes!

STORYTELLER: (Still cutting the paper.) Hmm. It seems I've told all those stories before. Perhaps you'd like to hear something new. Something ... (HE unfolds the paper revealing several paper dolls strung together.) ... about a very small little girl ... (Removes a single doll, presents it to one of the children.) ... named Thumbelina.

CHILDREN: Oooh!

Thumbelina

- 6 -

STORYTELLER: It just so happens that I recently discovered a very small book about this very small person. (HE takes out a teeny-tiny little book and opens it up. He squints at the pages with very small print.) Hmm. I need my magnifying glass. It's in my bag over —

CHILD #1 and #2: We'll go get it! (THEY dash off.)

STORYTELLER: Why, thank you.

(CHILD #1 returns with a magnifying glass.)

CHILD #3: Why would someone make a book so tiny?

STORYTELLER: Well, not all books are written by big people like us. You believe in fairies, don't you? This was probably published by a pixie. (Hands back magnifying glass after trying it out.) I'm afraid this won't do. Bring out the big one.

(CHILD #2 enters carrying a three-foot-tall prop of a magnifying glass.)

STORYTELLER: (HE uses it to stare at the book.) Ah, yes. Now I can see the writing perfectly. There's only one problem. I can't read this.

CHILDREN: Why not?

STORYTELLER: It's written in Bird language. Hmm. Let's see if we can find a translator.

(HE whistles. Offstage, a BIRD WHISTLES a reply. Then the BIRD enters flapping her wings, flittering across the stage.)

STORYTELLER: (Cont.) Hello, little sparrow. (The BIRD chirps again.) Could you help me read this story? (The BIRD chirps, rather embarrassed.) Now, don't be shy. You simply translate, then, whisper in my ear what the words mean. Would you please?

(The BIRD thinks for a moment, then nods her head in agreement. The bird looks at the pages, then whispers in the STORYTELLER'S ear.)

End of Freeview

Download your complete script from Eldridge Publishing

<https://histage.com/thumbelina>

Eldridge Publishing, a leading drama play publisher since 1906, offers more than a thousand full-length plays, one-act plays, melodramas, holiday plays, religious plays, children's theatre plays and musicals of all kinds.

For more than a hundred years, our family-owned business has had the privilege of publishing some of the finest playwrights, allowing their work to come alive on stages worldwide.

We look forward to being a part of your next theatrical production.

Eldridge Publishing... for the start of your theatre experience!